Ramadan is a particularly special time of the year, when many families become closer through sharing meaningful traditions & religious observances. Extended family connections are often reinforced, as relatives come together to share the joy of Ramadan. Ramadan, for many families, is a time for spending quality time together strengthening bonds of love, caring and sharing.

We would like to invite you (optional) to share a short (maximum one minute) video around the theme 'Ramadan with my Family' to be published on SM & the school Family First website.

If you would like to spread the joy across our community, please forward your video to the PRE Ms. Aiysha at aiysha.k\_wss@gemsedu.com

The deadline to submit your video is Thursday 28/4/23.

We very much look forward to seeing some beautiful family videos, thank you.

These apps will help you to monitor and limit their screen time. Monitoring also means establishing clear expectations about what your child should always tell you AND that they can always talk to you about the things going on in their life.

Ramadan (How to Manage your Time and Studies in Ramadan?)

Panel 1: Ramadan is the ninth month on the Islamic calendar, which marks important holidays and events for Muslims (people who practice Islam).

Mum, next week the Holy month of Ramadan will start, right?

Can you explain to me the holy month of Ramadan?

During Ramadan people fast, or refrain from eating and drinking, while it's light outside. Once the sun sets, families meet for big meals that may include stew, rice, dates, lentils, and more. People also have a morning meal before the sun rises.

Panel 2: Aside from fasting and praying, what else can we do to observe Ramadan?

People raise money and donate supplies to help others in need. And many fast to remind themselves about those in the world who don't have enough to eat.

Ramadan is a time to focus on our faith and also perform generous acts.

Panel 3: I am a student and I attend classes. Shall I also fast and follow the prayer timings?

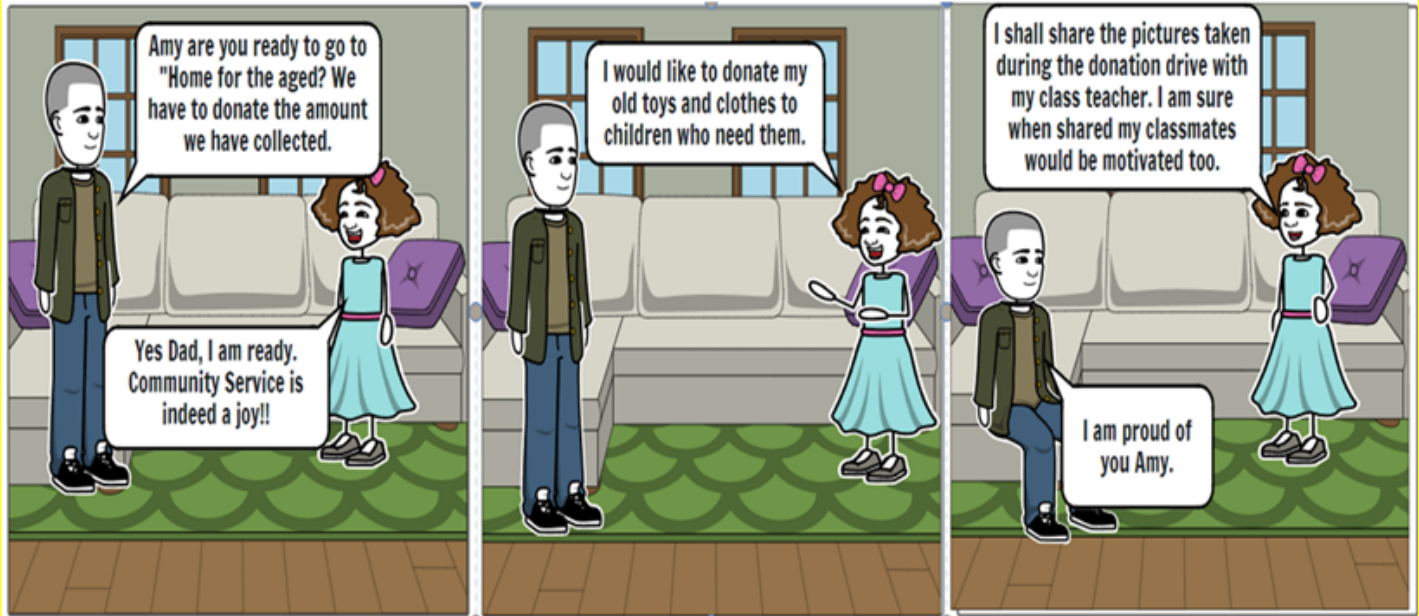

Yes!..Mariam, you need to master your self-discipline this holy month. As a student, follow these tips to make the most of your time and be productive during Ramadan. I wish you all a holy Ramadan. #RamadanMubarak

How to manage your time and studies in Ramadan?

1. Plan ahead and begin each day with a well-balanced Suhur.
2. Set realistic study goals considering your energy levels.
3. Prepare your things at home ahead then focus and concentrate during the lesson in the classroom.
4. Avoid multitasking and focus on one task at a time to save energy.
5. Get ample rest and sleep.

Secondary Section News; ASIES MUN Participation!

ASIES MUN' 24 (February 23rd to 25th)

Participating in Model United Nations (MUN) events provides a unique and immersive learning experience for both students and attendees alike. As students engage in researching, debating, and drafting resolutions on global issues, they not only enhance their understanding of diplomacy and international relations but also cultivate essential skills such as critical thinking, public speaking, and teamwork.

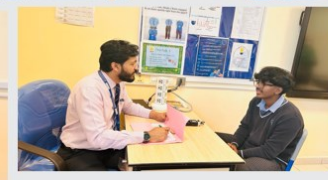

For attendees, such as myself, the learning journey is equally enriching. By observing the students' discussions and negotiations, I gain valuable insights into various perspectives on global challenges. Whether it's witnessing the passionate arguments for a particular policy stance or observing the complexities of diplomatic negotiations, every moment offers an opportunity for personal growth and learning.
